

Spiderman

Your eyes are blessed when you see spiderman in full gold and red. You can smell the gas from his suit when he flies (no he didn't fart). The gas is produced as his shoes go on fire, as hot as the sun, and allows him to fly! He is very nice and caring and when he is in the middle of a fight, he makes sure everyone's fine (but not the enemy). He has a spider's shot in the middle of the fight, so that it's unexpected. He even has a spider in the middle of the chest, so that when he is in danger, he can sense it. Then his chest opens and the spiders jumps on his enemy's heads and bites them with poison.

You're probably wondering, what is his back story? How did he turn into the magnificent spiderman? Well, he was once a little boy and his father had told him to go outside and play with his friends and as soon as he was there, he saw a spider and he decided to touch it. But as soon as he touched it, he realized he had messed up. The venom slivered in his veins.

Then he realized. He was spiderman. The one and only strong, powerful spiderman.

-Elizabeth

