

Madara

At the Almighty Mountain, in the fierce night of chaotic war, you will find the troublesome shinobi called Madara. He might be evil, but he is deadlier and more omnipotent than his entire clan. Although he has a very abnormal muscular, unhuman like body, he can instantly make an earthquake with his speed-like abilities. When he defeats or murders his enemies he stares at them, reminding them that they failed to defeat his powers. His half-eyed robotic eyes would deflect his enemies' attacks, which would astonish his anonymous enemies. His mechanical face would scare other villagers and his robotic arm can destroy buildings in the nick of time.

Madara is known for being the strongest clan leader of the Uchiha. However, he can teleport to his enemies in a blink of an eye. A while back, THE TIME had finally come for him to be reincarnated with the help of his bloodthirsty members. This also made many fellow leaders be in awe of him. Marada only wanted peace amongst other villages, until one of his brother was brutally murdered by one them. THIS made him develop the inevitable eye – a deadly weapon - called the mangekyo sharingan. This eye would be the most omnipotent eye in the Uchiha's weapons amongst all the clans!
